Dear Dr. Sugisaka,

Please note that while we welcome all submissions there is no guarantee of inclusion in the Conference Proceedings Citation Index (CPCI). Inclusion in CPCI is selective not all-inclusive.

If you have not done so already please read the Thomson Reuters Conference Proceedings Selection Process essay.

To submit proceedings for evaluation we need the published, original full text peer reviewed papers. You may submit them either electronically or in print.

Electronic proceedings must be in PDF format, preferably with free access from a website. We do not accept proceedings on CD or DVD.
If submitting electronically you must provide web access or a link from where they can be downloaded.

Send notification of electronic submissions to TR.PubRelations-Proceedings@thomsonreuters.com. Do not send attachments to this mail box. All attachments will be automatically deleted.

For print proceedings we request that you send us a complimentary copy of the proceedings, along with a description of the conference, to

Thomson Reuters
ATTN: Publication Processing
1500 Spring Garden Street
Fourth Floor

We currently do not accept proceedings prior to 2012 (current year plus the previous four as stated in the selection essay).

The minimum number of articles for CPCI coverage is 5.

If you have any further questions do not hesitate to ask.

I would like to obtain Conference Proceedings Citation Index.

Please let me know the procedure.

DR. MASANORI SUGISAKA

PRESIDENT

ALIFE ROBOTICS CORPORATION LTD.

VISITING PROFESSOR

OPEN UNIVERSITY

Dear Dana,

When are the evaluation dates of each steps in Proceedings of International Conference on Artificial Life and Robotics (n.a. / 2188-7829)? By the way, I, by myself organized and performed former Proceedings of International Symposium on Artificial Life and Robotics (n.a. / 2185-3797) since 1996 under the support of Japanese Government. The name of symposium was changed to conference in 2014. This fact can be evaluated or not. I would like to know it. Please let me know it.

For your easy evaluation of CPCI Please see webs: <http://alife-robotics.co.jp/> and <http://icarob.org/>.

By using username [redacted] and password [redacted], you can see all ICAROB2016, ICAROB2015,..., ICAROB1996 in the left hand side.

Best wishes,
Masanori

History of ICAROB

“The ICAROB conference resulted from the AROB-symposium whose first edition was held in 1996 and the eighteenth and last edition in 2013. The AROB symposium was annually organized by Oita University, Nippon Bunri University (NBU), and ALife Robotics Corporation Ltd. under the sponsorship of the Science and Technology Policy Bureau, the Ministry of Education, Science, Sports, and Culture (Monbusho), presently, the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science, and Technology (Monkasho), Japanese Government, Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS), the Commemorative Organization for the Japan World Exposition ('70), Air Force Office of Scientific Research, Asian Office of Aerospace Research and Development (AFOSR/AOARD), USA. I would like to express my sincere thanks to not only Monkasho (annually fund support from 1996 to 2013) but also JSPS, the Commemorative Organization for the Japan World Exposition ('70), and various other Japanese companies for their repeated support.

The old symposium was organized by International Organizing Committee of AROB and was co-operated by the Santa Fe Institute (USA), RSJ, IEEJ, ICASE (Now ICROS) (Korea), CAAI (P. R. China), ISCIE, IEICE, IEEE (Japan Council), JARA, and SICE. The old AROB-symposium expandd much by absorbing much new knowledge and technologies into it.

This history and character of the former AROB symposiums are passed on the current ICAROB conference and to this journal. From now on, ALife Robotics Corporation Ltd. is in charge of management of both the conference and the journal. The future of the ICAROB is brilliant from a point of view of yielding new technologies to human society in 21st century.”
